Only Two Served and Penalties Imposed Today—Rodgers Divorce
Suit Under Advisement

The grand jury which had been in session for seven days at intervals over three weeks, late yesterday finished up their work, and reported 14 indictments to the court, and bench warrants were ordered immediately.

Up until this afternoon only two indictments had been served. Sheriff Jones stated that others would be served on Monday. It was intimated that one half of those indicted were young people of Rushville and Milroy, who engaged in a "party" after the basketball tourney here last Saturday night.

During the long session there were over 100 witnesses examined, and it was also intimated that the jurors would go into session again some time next week.

The two who appeared before Judge Sparks today were Paul Root and Jerome Caron, each charged with public intoxication. Upon pleas of guilty, they were fined $5 and costs each, which in all amounts to $14.15.

The only new case filed in the civil court today was one in which the City of Rushville seeks damages against Max Tarplee. The case was sent here from Greenup Thompson, justice of peace court in Glenwood on an appeal by the plaintiff. The jury in that court found for the defendant. The complaint seeks damages for an alleged mishap in which a pedestal light post was damaged by an automobile driven by Tarplee.

William C. Fair this morning was granted a divorce upon payment of the costs, from Mary E. Fair.

Another divorce suit was heard this morning in which Ethel Rodgers seeks separation from Joseph Rodgers. The evidence was heard, and taken under advisement by the court.

Elsie Addington this morning dismissed her complaint in the court against Thomas Addington, in which she demands support money.

Another domestic case was heard in which Mattie Easley was allowed $4 a week support money during a divorce case pending. Her husband, Orville Easley filed the suit, and she demanded support and attorney fees. She was awarded $15 for attorney fees, and the plaintiff was ordered to make the payment within 30 days.

SEVERAL REPORTED DEAD

Four Story Hotel Burns at Clinton, Okla., Today

Clinton, Okla., Mar. 12—Several persons were reported burned to death in a fire which today destroyed the Grace hotel, a four story brick building here. The hotel officials were unable to make an accurate check of the death because the register was destroyed in the blaze. The hotel accommodated about 60 guests and it was reported that almost all the rooms were occupied last night. The origin of the fire has not been determined. The estimated loss was $50,000.

ESCAPE WITH $32 IN MONEY

Also Steal Some Groceries and Cigars—Show They Were Familiar With The Place

The grocery store owned by W. E. Clarkson and Son, 509 West Third street, was entered by robbers some time last night and they escaped with $32 in money and possibly some groceries and cigars from the stock. Local talent is suspected in the robbery because they knew where to find access to the cash register key, and knew where the several cash drawers were located about the store.

An entrance was gained to the store by climbing upon a high box at the rear of the store where a window several feet from the ground was smashed, and the window opened after the glass had been broken. One cash drawer from which wrapped money was stolen was pried open with an umbrella. From another drawer 500 pennies were stolen. The cash register was left unlocked but the robbers secured a key and unlocked a safety compartment in which a $2.50 gold piece and a K. of P. ring were kept.

One cash drawer in another part of the store containing bank accounts and bills was not opened. The money obtained consisted of $12 in pennies, $5 in dimes and $5 in nickels. A collection of foreign coins valued at $6 also was taken.

A night light was left in the store as usual, which was still burning this morning, but one neighbor stated this morning that the light was not burning when they passed the store at 10 o'clock last night. Another neighbor stated that the light was burning at 9:30. No direct clue was left by the robbers. The cash register keys were found in a lot nearby shortly before noon.

NATIVE CITIZEN
OF GLENWOOD DIESJudge Vincent Clifford, Age 63, Locally Related, Expires at His Home in Indianapolis

FUNERAL TO BE HELD MONDAY

Deceased Was an Uncle of Harry Clifford and Mrs. Ed Billings of
This City

Judge Vincent Clifford, age sixty-three years, who died at his home in Indianapolis Friday, was born and reared in Glenwood and was an uncle of Mrs. Ed Billings, 226 East Eighth street, and Harry Clifford, living a short distance northeast of the city.

Judge Clifford died following only a week's illness with influenza. Burial will take place in Crown Hill cemetery, Indianapolis, following funeral services to be held at the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with members of the Oriental Lodge, F. and A. M., in charge of the ritualistic services. Until about a week ago, Judge Clifford, who presided in Superior Court 4, was on the bench, devoting much of his time to studying the evidence in the stenotype company receivership suit.

Judge Clifford, who was born at Glenwood May 14, 1857, the son of John and Nancy Clifford, received his early education near his home, but later was graduated at Shortridge high school, Butler college and the American Central law school. He was admitted to the bar in 1883. In 1914, he was elected judge. In 1900, he was named census supervisor and in 1905, elected a member of the Indiana Legislature. He was a member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, and took an active interest in that fraternity after his college days had ended. He was a member of the Oriental lodge, F. and A. M., and also a member of the Christian church.

On Oct. 16, 1895, he was married to Miss Augusta Gilden Austin, daughter of Algernon and Catherine Austin. Judge Clifford is survived by the widow, two children, Vincent A. Clifford, a student of Harvard law school and Miss Katherine Clifford, a school teacher, and two brothers, Frank Clifford of Chicago and Miles Clifford of Tacoma, Wash.

The Indianapolis Bar Association held memorial services for Judge Clifford this morning at 11 o'clock in Superior Court 4, with Larz Whitecomb, president of the association, in charge of the meeting. A number of addresses were made by association members who were closely associated with Judge Clifford during his work as an attorney and judge.

IRISH CAMPAIGN
TO OPEN SUNDAYAppeal Will be Made to People of Irish Ancestry First and Then to Public Generally

MARK PURCELL LOCAL HEAD

Report From Director of Friends Committee $50,000 a Week Is Need for Emergency Use

The campaign for the relief of destitute people in Ireland will be started here Sunday by a local committee, of which Mark Purcell is chairman. The appeal will be made among the people of Irish ancestry first and then will be made general. The American committee for Relief in Ireland, which was organized last December, the movement first being started by Cardinal Gibbons is conducting the campaign throughout the United States.

This Committee, made up of United States Senators, literary men and men with international reputations in the business world, has since been in operation—all of the members devoting a large part of their time to the work, realizing the great importance of the work—for they know that the need for relief is great. Morgan H. O'Brien, probably one of the greatest lawyers in this country today, is chairman of the National Committee and that John J. Pulley, president of one of New York's largest banks, is treasurer. The names of the other members of the committee are likewise well known to all.

A cable from Director France, who heads the Friends committee which is at work in Ireland relieving distress, is cited to show the actual need which exists in that country.

Director France reported that members of the unit have investigated conditions in several cities, including Dublin, Belfast, Lisburn and Cork and in Counties Longford, Roscommon, Westmeath, Sligo and Leitrim, and it is estimated that $50,000 a week is necessary for emergency relief work, alone.

The report shows that thousands of men are out of employment, that there are children who receive but a piece of bread daily; that thousands of children are suffering from rickets and other horrible diseases due to malnutrition; that hundreds of homes have been destroyed by fire and otherwise; that most of the ceremonies which were cooperative institutions, have been destroyed. It is almost inconceivable that any one can turn a deaf ear to this silent appeal, an appeal that is sounding the death knell for Ireland unless we

ALL BILLS RECEIVE
EXECUTIVE ACTIONWork of 72nd General Assembly
Ends When Governor Signs One Measure and Refuses Two

LOST AMENDMENTS RESTORED

County Unit Law Now as it Was Passed in 1919—McCray Refuses
Commissioner's Salary Bill(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 12—All the bills passed by the legislature which adjourned last Monday midnight, had received final executive action today, thus winding up the work of the 72nd general assembly except for the promulgation of some of the laws.

Governor McCray refused to accept two bills and signed one before noon today, clearing his desk.

The bill signed was introduced jointly by Representatives Barker of Boone, Davis of Jay, and Smith of Gibson, and restored the "ten lost amendments" to the county unit road law which were not included in the bill as it passed the 1919 legislature.

One of those bills the governor refused to accept was the Anderson bill placing the members of the board of county commissioners on a salary basis, the salary to be determined by the population, assessed valuation, area of county and number of free gravel roads.

The other bill refused was introduced by Representative Willis and provides methods of procedure for the construction of side-walks in incorporated towns.

Both the Anderson and Willis bills were presented during the closing hours of the session and the governor exercised his prerogative in refusing them. In rejecting the Anderson bill, the governor issued a statement saying that the administration was pledged to economy and that the bill would run contrary to his campaign pledge.

With the final disposition of all legislation awaiting his signature, the governor brought the total of the number of acts approved by the legislature and by him to 282. The 1919 session passed 234 bills which became laws.

ANOTHER DOLLAR DAY TO BE HELD NEXT WEDNESDAY

Rushville merchants will hold another Dollar Day next Wednesday, just one month after the first bargain day of this character that was ever held in this city.

The success of the Dollar Day February 16 lead to the demand on the part of several business men for another one and it was decided early this week to stage another bargain event.

The majority of local retailers are offering special inducements to attract buyers for the day, each article specially priced being sold at a dollar.

The advertisements of a number of business houses will be found today on page 8 and 9 and other ads on other pages of the paper also mentioned Dollar Day offerings.

LITTLE HOPE HELD
OUT TO GET YEGGSNot Believed Robbers Who Forced Vault of Postoffice Thursday Morning Will be Apprehended

ANOTHER GANG AT NEWPOINT

Officials Don't Think Robbery There
Had Any Connection—Inspect Abandoned Car at Clarksburg

It is regarded as doubtful whether the yeggmen who forced the vault in the Rushville postoffice early Thursday morning and escaped with approximately $10,000 worth of stamps, are ever apprehended. Every effort will be made, however, to catch them because all the resources of the federal government are employed to run down postoffice robbers because this class of thefts is becoming a sort of an epidemic.

It is not believed by postal authorities that the robbers who broke into the postoffice at Newpoint, Decatur county, Thursday night, were the same ones who robbed the Rushville postoffice. It is their opinion that the yeggs who visited the local office would not spend their time on such a job as the Newpoint office. The thieves there obtained only $5-50 in cash and a quantity of tobacco and cigarettes from the store in which the postoffice is located.

Postmaster G. P. Hunt and Sheriff E. M. Jones made a trip to Clarksburg Friday evening to determine whether the stolen automobile abandoned there had any connection with the robbery here. They returned home convinced that the finding of the car was not connected in any way with the theft here.

The machine was practically a new Ford sedan and there was nothing to indicate that it had been used by the yeggmen who visited the Rushville postoffice. The men who discovered the machine near Clarksburg found six bottles of "home brew" in the car, which gave rise to the theory that it was being used in the illicit liquor traffic. The opinion prevails in Clarksburg that some men who were in Cincinnati wanted to get home, and they took the car and drove it to Clarksburg where they abandoned it.

Just when a new lock and combination will be installed on the doors of the vault at the local postoffice is problematical. This matter is not in the hands of the postal authorities, but rests with the Phoenix Masonic Temple association, which owns the Masonic Temple and rents the room to the government for use as a postoffice.

Postmaster Hunt is keeping all he needs to transact the day's business in the money safe inside the vault, and stamp supplies and other valuables are secure behind the doors of a local bank vault.

Postoffice Inspector Schaffer of Indianapolis returned to his home yesterday evening after completing the job of checking up on the local office to determine how many stamps were actually taken by the yeggs. The postoffice was completely stripped of its supply of revenue stamps, but a new supply was received Friday and all local firms who were in need of stamps of this kind can now be accommodated.

Postmaster Deonges and Assistant Postmaster W. F. McNaughton of Connersville called at the Rushville postoffice Friday and viewed the work of the yeggmen.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Bloomington, Ind., Mar. 12—The Sandusky high school basketball team sprang a surprise on the "dopesters" in the semi-finals of the state basketball tourney which began here this morning, when they defeated the Central high school team from Evansville, 29 to 22.

The big gymnasium was filled long before the lively youngsters of Central and Sandusky took the floor in the opening game at 9 o'clock.

Evansville first took the floor for practice and the crowd cheered wildly, but the noise went into an uproar when the smaller team representing Sandusky, went on the floor. The crowd immediately were won over to the Sandusky team because of the difference in the sizes of the two teams. The team was referred to as "Little Sandusky," and before the game had progressed very far was referred to as the "largest" of all dark horses of the season. "Little Sandusky" was a favorite with the crowd for it was the winner in the sectional tournament that had been conceded in advance to be "white" meat for either Rushville or Milroy.

The two teams fought almost to a standstill in the first half, with "Little Sandusky" trailing by a lone point at half time, 7 to 6. In the last half they took the lead and gradually pulled away, and it was with their fighting spirit and accurate goal shooting that won the game. Sandusky will enter the finals at Indianapolis next Friday night. Their opponents at Indianapolis will be the winner of the last game tonight at Bloomington, which will be either Technical or Vincennes.

Amusements

"Bab's Candidate", Princess

"Bab's Candidate", in which Corrine Griffith and George Fawcett have leading parts, and a Lloyd Hamilton comedy, "Dynamite", is the offering at the Princess theater today. Mrs. Mildred Harris Chaplin comes Monday and Tuesday in "Old Dad" and Burton Holmes Travels will also be shown.

"Bab's Candidate" was one of the prize winners in an O. Henry contest, conducted under the auspices of the Society of Arts and Sciences with the object of encouraging young authors to follow the style of the famous short story writer. Both Lucien Hubbard, who wrote the motion picture scenario, and Edward Griffith who directed the picture, closely followed the original story.

"Bab's Candidate" tells a story which has its setting in a country town. Barbara, the charming daughter of a United States senator, is fascinated by a young man who desired to become a leader in politics. Her father is disgusted with the windpumping inclinations of the young man and objects to his marriage to Barbara. However, the senator sees in his daughter's sweetheart the possibilities of a splendid lawyer. With the coming of the election time the senator supports a candidate for the state senate, and the young political aspirant takes a dislike to the senator's candidate and proves his record so imperfect that the senator is forced to withdraw him from the race. The young man is himself placed in the race. The girl, though herself convinced that her father is correct in his opinion of her sweetheart's incompetency as a politician, still has much adoration for him. Realizing that if he is elected to the state senate he would become so entangled in politics that he could not devote his time toward the study of law, she resolves to defeat him. She places an old pauper in the field against her sweetheart and when election is held the pauper is declared a winner.

"The Branded Soul," Mystic

A real boxing match, not one staged for motion-picture purposes, is shown as part of the Stoll film production, "The Branded Soul," an adaptation from a novel by Rita, the famous British writer. A championship fight between Bruiser Gaines and Johnny Burrows was scheduled for an arena in the neighborhood of the Stoll studio when the filming of "The Branded Soul" was started.

F. Martin Thornton, the director, decided that, as a boxing scene was needed later in the production, here was a chance to get the real thing. After a little difficulty, the matter was arranged, and Reginald Fox, who plays the star part in the picture, went with the director and cameraman to the arena.

Whether the present of the grinding machines inspired the opposing fighters or not, the witnesses of the encounter said it was the most spirited set-to ever staged there. For round after round—each move faithfully depicted by the cameras—the battlers slugged furiously. Then suddenly, the "Bruiser" got in an uppercut, and Burrows stretched his length on the canvas, bringing the fight to a finish.

The dramatic ending to the contest played a vital part in the story of "The Branded Soul," for Geoffrey Gale lost a bet on it, and out of that simple happening grew many tense and sensational events. "The Branded Soul" will be shown at the Mystic theatre Monday and Tuesday.

NATIVE CITIZEN OF GLENWOOD DIES

When news of his death reached the other judges of the Marion county courts, a decision to adjourn all the county courts until next Tuesday morning was reached. An entry was prepared by Judge Collins, Thornton and Chamberlin and spread upon the records of each of the county courts. The entry follows:

"Vincent G. Clifford, judge of Room 4, of the Superior court of the county, having this day died, this court is now ordered to adjourn until next Tuesday morning, out of respect to his memory. He was elected judge of the Superior court of this county at the November election of 1914 and re-elected at the November election 1918. He was a judge of decided ability and ably fulfilled the duties of his office. He was always courteous to his associate judges, and always ready and willing to assist them with counsel and advice in the performance of their judicial duty in any way he could possibly do so. In his death the public has lost the services of an able jurist, a patriotic, an honest and upright citizen, and the judges of the courts of this county a kind, helpful and considerate friend, and the bar of this county an honored member."

Chief Caupolican, Who Lectured at Chautauqua, Has Leading Role

The fact that Chief Caupolican, a native Araucanian Indian of the Chilean Andes who, has lectured at the Rush county chautauqua, made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York this week in the leading role of "The Polish Jew", has been the source of much comment throughout the county.

It is pointed out that this demonstrates more than ever the class of the talent which the Rush county chautauqua offers. Persons who heard Chief Caupolican recall that he had a very extraordinary voice, both for speaking and singing, and that his singing of "The Long, Long Trail," a very popular war song, was a feature of his lecture.

OBITUARY

Peter S. Hollowell, born Aug. 25, 1872, died Feb. 25, 1921, aged 48 years and 6 months.
He was the son of Datus and Priscilla Larimore Hollowell and was born and raised near Raleigh, Ind. He was united in marriage to Margaret Jones of this county in 1894, who survives him. The other immediate members of his immediate family living are his father, one brother Bert Hollowell of Washington township and one sister Mrs. Bert Cohee of Mays, Ind.
He has resided all his life in Rush county. He was a member of the Masonic, Elks and Modern Woodmen orders.

Such is the brief chronologic history of this man and such would be about all he would claim were he to have furnished this obituary. Those who knew him best can say a great deal more. He started in his early married life with very little of this world's goods but by hard work and good management he acquired a competence to make him comfortable and independent in his last days. Always honest and honorable in his dealings with his fellowman he had become to be respected throughout the county in which he lived and was looked up to as reliable and a substantial citizen. Unassuming but always friendly he made friends easily and once a friend to Pete Hollowell, as he was popularly known, always a friend. He was ever a dutiful son, a kind and generous husband and a loyal brother. It is customary and fitting to say pleasant and agreeable things about the dead but all who knew Pete Hollowell must know that these are not empty words spoken at a time of bereavement.

About 8 years ago his health began to fail and he was compelled to forego the active life he had been living and retire from hard work, but he found it hard to adapt himself to a life of leisure so he continued to take such part in public affairs and in the management of his own business as his fast failing health would permit.

In his last illness he said he knew he was near the end of his earthly days but he had no fear of death but made the preparation as for a long journey with a courage that was the highest mortal man could show.

Just in his dealings with his fellowman and generous in his judgment he passed through this life and his hope for a greater happiness in the hereafter was based in the faith of the justice and charity of the Great Judge of all.

ITALIANS FAVOR AMERICAN FILMS

Atmospheric Conditions and Field of Backgrounds Have Contributed to Success of Film Industry

3 PRINCIPAL MOVIE CENTERS

Altogether Film Land in Italy Employs About 10,000 People, Including 300 Actors and Actresses

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Rome, (By Mail)—There are no heroes in Italian film-land. Neither does the ideal lover exist there.

The American girl movie-fan whose one thrill in life is to see her favorite film star on the screen would die of emotional inanition in twenty-four hours in Italy.

What complicates the situation is that the "ideal over" in Italian film-land "aint". In fact, he's everything to the contrary. He is always a chap who having won the love of the heroine of the film promptly falls in love with No. 2 (in the event he wasn't already in love with her before he married the heroine) and such a lover as that would never go down the throats of fair American film fans. On the other hand any other kind wouldn't go down the throats of Italian lady film worshippers.

Nevertheless, the "inematografo", as it is unobtrusively known in Italy has become one of the biggest Italian modern industries. Atmospheric conditions which all but rival those of California for picture taking, as well as an inexhaustible field of historic backgrounds and settings have contributed much to the success of the Italian industry.

The three principal movie producing centers in Italy are Rome, Turin and Milan, although both Naples and Sicily have producing houses. Rome alone boasts of twenty producing houses, the best known one of which are Cines, Ceser Tiber, Quirines, Rinascento, Lucio d'Ambr, Do-Re-Mi and Polidor. They employ a total of 4,000 people, including both artists, operators and workmen. About fifty moving picture houses are constantly open at Rome.

As a producing center, Turin comes next with fifteen producing houses. They employ 3,000 artists and workmen, while Turin has also forty movie houses. There are also fifty more houses at Milan for showing films. Italian films average from two thousand to three thousand yards and the national out put of the fifty odd houses is from one to two films a day or about 500 films a year.

Despite the fact that Italians enjoy in the extreme degree humorous films, only one house has succeeded in making a specialty of producing these and that is Polidor. His comedies run from 500 to 700 yards. He is his own proprietor, his own director, his own play writer, and together with his wife comes pretty near being all the cast himself. His real name is Frederico Guillaume and in Italy he is what Charles Chaplin is in America.

Altogether film land in Italy employs about 10,000 people, including 300 actors and actresses, about 100 directors and mounters and an equal number of operators.

The average pay for the average actors and actresses is forty francs a day while the leading stars have succeeded in attaining salaries that according to Italian standards are fully as extraordinary as are those of the American top-notchers. The lesser stars draw from 2,000 to 10,000 lire a month while Francesca Bertini pulls down two million francs a year.

For the time being the Italian movie industry is undergoing a hard crisis, due to various causes and in order to eliminate ruinous competition the leading Italian houses have organized a trust known as the Unione Cinematografica.

American films are at all times the most sought after in Italy. The Triangle, Famous Players Corporation and Transatlantic productions are the most popular but are now meeting with a certain serious competition in the German films being put out by the "U. S. A." Recently there has been something of a scarcity of American films in Italy.

Automobile Legislation

Many worthwhile laws were passed by the session of the Indiana legislature just closed, and a few which were not for the best interests of motorists were killed.

The members of the general assembly exercised good judgment
when they gave their sanction to a bill which required barriers be placed at each end of all highways because many accidents, some of them serious, could have been avoided if this policy had always been followed by road contractors and highway officials.

The law makes it mandatory that the road shall be closed with barriers, and also provides that red lights shall be displayed at night so that danger of automobile drivers running into the barriers will be removed.
Another provision of the measure requires that detour signs shall be placed all the way round, so that the driver will not be lost and can easily get back to the road which is closed.

The law applies to all state, county and township roads. It is legislation which has been needed for many years, especially in recent years when automobile travel has increased so rapidly. Too often automobile travelers in a strange country have lost their way completely and have suffered needless delay because of the negligence of road officials through their failure to erect barriers where roads are closed and to put up detour signs.
Cases are recalled where roads with bridges out have been left open and serious accidents have resulted.

Many other laws pertaining to automobiles and automobile driving were enacted, not the least important of which is one increasing the penalty for stealing automobiles so that the minimum now is three years instead of six months. The original bill provided that the court could not suspend the sentence imposed on an automobile thief, but this clause was stricken out.

Another statute for which motorists should be duly thankful is one taking from constables and justices of the peace in cities of the first and second class, the authority to enforce motor vehicle regulations.
In the larger cities it has been the custom for constables to prey on motorists, causing their arrest for the slightest technical offense when the driver was not aware of the regulation. These human vultures have resorted to such practices to make a living and have been the bane of many automobile owners.

Some meritorious measures designed to prevent accidents also became laws. One requires uniform additional danger signs placed on highways;
three hundred feet back on each side of all railroad and inter-urban crossings outside of cities and towns.
The public service commission is to take the initiative under this statute, the railroads pay the transportation charges, provide the labor, cement and gravel and place the signs; and the county pays for the signs and posts and keeps them maintained after they are set.

The title of ownership act is designed to destroy the market for stolen cars and the act providing for the clearing of obstructions at road intersections is also regarded as progressive legislation.

The law providing for the patrol maintenance of main traveled county highways is believed to provide an improved method for keeping up highways. It gives the county commissioners authority to increase the salary of the county highway superintendent and to pay more for labor and teams when necessary to compete with prevailing prices.

Good laws are worthless, of course, unless they are properly enforced, and owners of automobiles who are interested in these new statutes will do well to see that they are observed in order that human life may be protected and means of travel be improved.

Attorney General Daugherty is going to review the ruling of the former attorney general on the prohibition enforcement act, but it is not expected that he will decide beer is medicine, though some will admit beer tastes like it.

Lee Kidder, federal prohibition agent for the southern district of Indiana, has proved to a lot of fellows there's nothing in a name when he tells them to "come along."

Some folks who never get tramped on when grand opera comes to town, might be so unkind as to say that it offers a good field for an Indian.

If the thefts of Liberty bonds keep the price down, as alleged by the New York district attorney, it looks like stamps ought to come down.

This is the day when all basketball fans who are good sports come to the defense of their sectional winners.

Current Comment

Uncle Sam Not Broke
(Financial World)

Our hysterical state of mind allows newspaper writers who incline to the sensational form of expressing their thoughts freedom to say almost anything and apparently get away with it. So we should not be at all surprised when we read in some of the newspapers such startling headlines as "Uncle Sam is Broke".
Were such a thing possible then the whole world would be penniless.

Uncle Sam is far from broke. The whole trouble with him is not in regard to his resources or ability to raise cash, but it is with his children were we to call our population as such, who have been extravagant beyond all bounds of reason and who foolishly took the shadow of inflation as the real substance of enduring business. Now they must pay the penalty; they must get down to earth, handle their affairs with common sense and make up their minds that business is to be conducted on a sane basis must get back to a sane foundation.

No worker can expect to get wages
beyond a point where the employer cannot make a fair profit; no merchant can demand a price for his goods that compels the purchaser to go into debt to provide himself with his wares, and no farmer can expect to sell his staples at a figure which means starvation when the world cannot buy. And while such conditions exist, Uncle Sam cannot continue to provide the financing for the continuation of such artificiality.

A GRATIFIED WISH

We've reached the calm, gray twilight
of our life—
Yours and my own; are they not one, sweet-wife?

The scented dusk ere yet the stars appear.
If God's will match with ours, full
many a year
Lies smilingly in wait 'twixt us and night—

Night so love-filled we scorn the need of light.
No children clamor 'round us as of yore—
We fret o'er their disturbances no more.

This is the peace we prayed for,
you and I—
The peace so yearned for in the days gone by.

Remember how we used to sigh and say:
"When they are fledged and fled,
then comes our day!"
This is the day. The last of them is gone—
Somehow we both keep listening, listening on
For laugh and voice that do not come again—
Our troublous brood are women now,
and men.

This is the "peace", the longed-for
"time of rest"
To which we once looked forward with such zest!
But can it be? Life side by side is sweet,
And yet our fondest hopes it fails to meet.

They are away; there's quiet in their places;
We're missing so their voices and their faces!
While, midst the peace we lack not much of ruing.

We wonder how they are and what they're doing.

RATHER BE DAIRYMAN
THAN THE PRESIDENT

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 12—Albert
Theodore Koopman likes dairying.
Koopman is now a dairyman and he would rather stick at his job than become president of the United States.

Appeared before Judge Thorton in naturalization proceedings, Koopman scorned the presidency when asked by the officers if he were qualified for the place.

"I have too many children," Koopman said. He has four.

"Why couldn't you be president?"
queried George Mackay, naturalization examiner.

"I don't believe I care for it,"
Koopman replied.

When told that the president's salary is $75,000 a year and that Senator Harding resigned his seat in the senate for the place, Koopman emphatically said:

"I wouldn't have it."
He was admitted to citizenship.

25

If, out of every one hundred people in civilized lands, seventy-five were minus one hand, one foot, one ear, everyone would marvel.

Yet it is a fact that today seventy-five people in every hundred are defective in what is undoubtedly our most precious gift—the faculty of sight.

There are only twenty-five people in every hundred who have perfect sight. The remainder are — or should be — wearing glasses in order to correct the deficiencies of their vision.

If you are not absolutely positive that you have perfect vision call and let us make a careful, scientific examination of your eyes.

ODD FELLOWS WIN BY 3 POINTS AGAIN

Victorious in Tight Game With Shelbyville Independents at Shelbyville Friday Night

FINAL COUNT WAS 19 TO 16

With One Point Margin Near End, Tittsworth Shoots One From Sideline, Sewing up Game

The Rushville Odd Fellows took the Shelbyville Independents into camp last night for the second time this week, when they defeated them on the floor in that city, by a three point margin, 19 to 16.

In the game played here Tuesday night, the locals then won by a three point margin, 32 to 29, and in the first game earlier in the season, lost to Shelbyville by a lone point, which proves that the two teams are evenly matched. Of the three game series the locals won out in the final two games.

The hall at Shelbyville last night was packed to its limit. Several Rushville people accompanied the team. Shelbyville presented the strongest line-up of the season in an effort to win, and played the two Richeson brothers, as well as importing the star center on the Franklin college quintet.

The Odd Fellows used practically the same line-up as they did Tuesday and played an even consistent game all of the way through, which gave them a slight advantage at all times.

The Shelbyville team started off fast and ran up the score to five points before Rushville could score. It was not long in the first half until the score was tied, and when the period ended, it found the Odd Fellows one point ahead, 7 to 6.

In the last half the game was again tight with each team within close range of each other. As the game neared an end excitement ran at high pitch, as a field goal would make either team the winner. With a minute to play, the score was 17 to 16 in the locals favor, when Tittsworth, floor guard for Rushville, took the ball down the floor and registered his only marker of the evening from a difficult angle along the side line. This gave the locals a three point margin, which sewed up the game until the whistle blew.

The Odd Fellows will close the season tonight at Carthage when they meet the Independents of that place, and they expect to end the season with another victory. A curtain raiser tonight will be played between the Rushville Shamrocks and the Reserves of Carthage.

The Shamrocks will have several high school stars in their line-up, while E. Headlee will appear in an Odd Fellows uniform.

The score and summary of the game last night:

PURDUE ATHLETES TURN TO BASEBALL

With Close of Successful Basketball Season, Boiler Makers Prepare For April 2 Game

WILL OPEN WITH DEPAUW

Lafayette, Ind., Mar. 12.—With the close of successful basketball season in which the Purdue University quintet was tied for first place by Michigan and Wisconsin. Boiler-maker interest in athletics has turned to baseball. Coach W. L. Lambert and Assistant Coach Pierce have directed their attention to the diamond squad appearing for the first game of the season, April 2, with DePauw. With most of last year's nine and some likely recruits graduated from the freshman squad a year ago, Purdue should be represented by a first class team. The men generally are showing ability in hitting this year in which they were noticeably weak in 1920.

Captain "Bobbie" Roberts leads the candidates for the back stop positions. However, he will have to keep on his toes as McQuaid and Burns who were on the freshman nine last year are looming up as strong possibilities. Hiser who played first base last year, also is a likely catcher and he may be shifted by Coach Lambert.

"Lefty" Wagner and Wallace are being pushed for the twirling jobs they held last year by two newcomers, Voldstad and Johnson, who were freshmen hurlers a year ago. Strack and Elsener are two of the likely candidates for first base, while Strabbe apparently has the second base job sewed up. McCarthy, Hyde and Morgan are three likely candidates for short stop, while Murphy, W. H. Fawcett and Kendrick are the candidates for third base. Captain White of the basketball squad who was a regular in the outfield last year is out again this year with Stanwood, another veteran, K. I. Fawcett and Gleason.

U. S. Flag, Gun And Nerve Saved 500 From Death

By CARL D. GROAT (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Kattowitz, Upper Silesia, (By Mail).—How an American flag, and an American captain with good nerve, a trusty revolver and a bit of American bluff saved 500 exchanged German prisoners, inbound from Poland, leaked out here today.

The American was Capt. Stettler over six feet tall, born in Joplin, Mo. a globe trotter, with no knowledge of what fear means.

The incident occurred during the Polish outbreak in Upper Silesia last year. Stettler, then associated with Col. Goodyear of Buffalo, N. Y., on the American coal commission, was helping Goodyear to clear up the uprising. He had been across the line into Poland, located prisoners dragged off by the Poles, and also a large group of men, women and children long interned in the same camp.

Having had good relations with both the German and Polish sides, Stettler was able to induce the Polish commandant to surrender the prisoners; as the basis for later negotiations toward an armistice. With difficulty he obtained a train for the refugees, and had reached the border line where the hatred between and Germans was particularly bitter.

A mob collected as the train pulled in. Each car bore an American flag. The crowd grew vicious, threatening to massacre the whole group of prisoners.

Here is where the captain, the American flag, the nerve and the bluff come in.

Taking a Polish interpreter with him, and carrying a little American flag in one hand and his revolver in the other, he proceeded to tell the Polish leader something.

"This train is under American protection," he said, "and if you shoot upon it, you are shooting at America. That means not only that America will shut off all the food supplies she's been sending you here in Poland, but it means that she'll send an army to avenge this act. And, I'll shoot the first man who makes a move."

The cold courage—and the trace of good American bluff—had its effect. The crowd growled a bit, and seemed for a moment hesitant and then backed down.

And Stettler still carrying his flag and revolver, stood on the platform as the train headed into Germany—unmolested.

Pack mules are used by the Salvation Army workers in South Africa as transportation between two posts, 100 miles apart.

POLITICAL POWER OF HAMON SHOWN

Political Confidant of Dead Man Testifies in Murder Trial of Clara Smith Hamon

MINISTER ON THE STAND

Declares Hamon Repented of His Sins and Declared He Was Equally Guilty With Defendant

(By United Press)

Court House, Ardmore, Okla., Mar. 12.—Jake Hamon's political power was revealed today in the trial of Clara Smith Hamon, his secretary-protege, charged with his murder.

Jake Hamon's pal, W. N. Nichols, former police chief of Ardmore and now in the oil game, in testifying for the state, said: "I was with Jake just before he died, Hamon and I talked politics. He then was a republican leader in the United States. He told me he would die and begged me to confer with Warren Harding's friends, in order to give his friends political jobs." Nichols' testimony made after a cross examination by "Wild Bill" McLean, Fort Worth, counsel for the accused girl.

E. W. Callis, chauffeur, who drove Clara Smith from Dallas in her wild flight toward the Mexican border, got on the stand after Nichols. He said the defendant tried to get an airplane at Dallas, but when she failed she hired me. "I received $150 for acting as her chauffeur and $100 tip," he said. "She rode in the front seat with me. At one time she had two pistols lying on her lap. She told me she had shot a man."

The Rev. T. J. Irvin of the First Presbyterian church, Hamon's minister, was next called to the stand. He stated that Jake Hamon told him the following before he died: "I have been living with Clara Smith Hamon. I am sorry. We both were equally guilty." An excerpt from a sermon preached over Jake Hamon's body in which it was said if Jake Hamon did not go to Heaven it was because he did not want to go, was read. At the time of the sermon it was believed Hamon's death was accidental. ## American Women Show Loyalty In Their Mating

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Mar. 12—Does the American woman hold greater loyalty and love for the American man than the American man does for the American woman?

Why does the American woman, living in a land peopled by all the races insist upon marrying the American man, whereas the American man is only half as eager to choose one of his own nationality for his life mate?

These questions are suggested by a report, made public here today, on conditions in Hawaii. But the cold, prosaic reports emanating from a government printing office don't attempt to answer such queries.

But still there's a touch of romance in this Hawaii report, prepared by the Department of the Interior, for it shows strange conditions of life that prevail in the "Paradise of the Pacific"—the South Sea Island group where there is probably one of the greatest racial mixtures the world has ever seen, even though all these people live under the American flag.

Set down midway in the Pacific, with six days and 2,000 miles separating her from her nearest neighbor, the little Hawaii group does not adjust itself so readily to the flow of human currents as her uncle on the mainland.

The outstanding feature of Hawaii's situation is the nature of her population. This population, totaling 263,666, is divided into four groups:
Asiatics—Japanese, Chinese, Koreans and Filipinos.
Polynesians—Hawaiians, Caicas-

ian-Hawaiians and Asiatic-Hawaiians.

Latins—Portuguese, Spaniards, and Porto Ricans.

Americans, British, Russians, Germans, etc.

Of this total population, 60.6 percent is Oriental, the Japanese leading with 41.7 percent of the population. The Americans, British and all the Teutonic and Slavic elements combined comprise only 11.8 percent of the total inhabitants.

But the most interesting phase of the report is the summary which indicates, to what extent these various racial groups fuse through intermarriage.

"If a rapid fusion is taking place in this manner," says the report, "the Territory of Hawaii will be looked upon as being unique in this, namely, that a new race of people would be in process of creation. If, on the other hand, racial groups maintain group solidarity and manifest no 'chemical affinity', then we shall doubtless witness a struggle in the future for supremacy."

Here it points out that in the period which the investigation covered, only half of the American men in the island married American women, but practically all of the American women married men of their own nationality.

In numerical order, American men married Americans, Portuguese, Caucasian-Hawaiians, Hawaiians, British, German, Chinese Hawaiians, and Porto Ricans.

Only thirteen American men and three American women married Asiatics; fifteen American men married Chinese-Hawaiians; and 223 American men married women of Hawaiian blood.

The 115 American women who did not wed American men married in order, British, Caucasian-Hawaiians, Germans, Hawaiians, Portuguese. Most Germans married others than Germans, preferring Americans.

Most Spanish men married Spanish women, although Spanish women married freely outside their nationality—a condition opposite from that prevailing among the Americans.

In general, Japanese marry only Japanese, showing more racial allegiance than any other race in the islands.

The Korean women, without exception, married Korean men. The women of no other race in Hawaii had a like record for loyalty to their own men. Most Hawaiian men marry freely outside their own race.

The conclusion is that "all the races except the Korean and Japanese are fusing rapidly through intermarriage, but the Japanese group is maintaining its racial distinctiveness."

STOCK EXCHANGE SUES RAILROADS

The Cost of Meat to More Than 100,000,000 People is Blamed on High Rate on Live Stock

COMPLAINT IS FILED TODAY

National Live Stock Exchange
Brings Suit Against All 1st Class
Transportation Companies

Washington, Mar. 12.—The cost of meat to more than one hundred million consumers, farm profits in every section of the United States, and American live stock production are all involved in a complaint filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by The National Live Stock Exchange. This complaint, directed against all Class 1 railroads, attacks the present rates on ordinary live stock throughout the country.

Concerning this far-reaching action taken by the Exchange, President Everett C. Brown issued the following statement:

"From all sections of the country we have reports indicating the discouraging and disheartening effects of the present rate adjustment, which coupled with the recent decline in live stock values, gives to the producer more than his proportionate share of the post-war readjustment burden.

"The National Live Stock Exchange includes in its membership buyers and sellers of live stock at the twenty-seven important primary live stock markets of the United States. Our members annually receive and ship more than one million carloads of live stock, and in one year the proceeds from the sale of this stock was in excess of four billion dollars.

"We hope to have this complaint consolidated with others of similar nature. Many of these are now in course of preparation, and our organization is glad to lead the van in a fight to restore our transportation rates and charges to normalcy.

"We do not underestimate the importance of the railroads of the country, but neither do we concede they are of more importance than that of our basic industry—agriculture.

"I am convinced that many railroad executives recognize the imperative need of an early readjustment of their rates, and it is frequently stated that present rates are, in many cases, more than the traffic will bear. They will not, however, voluntarily reduce these rates for fear of the far-reaching effect of such a precedent.

"The Commission is charged with the duty of seeing that the railroads are honestly, efficiently and economically managed, before it shall permit the establishment of rates designed to yield a fair return upon the value of railroad property. We hope to have a full investigation of this situation.

"That part of the complaint alleging that the collection of terminal charges on ordinary live stock is unlawful, is borne out by the law as amended in 1920. The fact that all tariffs have not been brought into conformity with the law seemingly shows the indifference of some of the carriers to the rights of the shipping public."

The complaint is signed jointly by Mr. Brown and D. C. Mosier, Chairman of the Exchange Transportation Committee. After detailing the advances authorized by the Commission in the general rate advance case (ex parts 74), it declares these advances were justified because the commission is required, as a condition precedent to the authorization of such rates to see that existing railroad properties are honestly, efficiently and economically managed.

It is asserted that the collection of a terminal charge in addition to the transportation rate on ordinary live stock violates section 15 of the Interstate Commerce Act. Specific violations of sections 1, 2 and 3 are also charged. The Commission is asked to require the establishment of just and non-discriminatory rates.

20 CHAPTERS WIN PLACES IN LIST

Indiana Red Cross Bodies Honored in Fourth Roll Call by Exceeding 1920 Enrollments

GAIN OF 18,106 MEMBERS

Total Membership in Indiana From Fourth Roll Call as Reported
March 1, is 170,183

Cleveland, O., Mar. 12.—Twenty Indiana chapters of the American Red Cross won places in the honor list of the Fourth Roll Call by exceeding their 1920 enrollments with a total gain of 18,106 members in those communities.

This has just been announced by Lake Division headquarters here, the increase being based upon reports to March 1. Some of these 20 chapters which went beyond their figures of the Third Roll Call in the last membership enrollment and others which fell short of the preceding year's totals are still obtaining members so that the final results in the state are expected to make considerable additions to the honor roll.

In Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, which, at the time of the last Roll Call, comprised Lake Division, but to which Michigan and West Virginia have just been added in consequence of the contraction of the domestic organization of the Red Cross into eight administrative districts instead of thirteen, 64 chapters went over their totals of the Third Roll Call, the gain being 198,122.

Here is Indiana's honor list of chapters in the Fourth Roll Call:

Crawford County, Fort Wayne, Franklin County, Hendricks County, Jay County, Johnson County, Kosciusko County, Miami County, Orange County, Randolph County, St. Joseph County, Terre Haute, Vermillion County, Wells County, Whitley County, Lake County Council (five chapters.)

The total membership in Indiana from the Fourth Roll Call, as reported to March 1, is 170,183.

Brigadier General Mitchell Makes Statement in Interview With The U. P. Today

AID TO NATIONAL DEFENSE

Air Routes Will Provide Network
Whereon Units of National Guard
Can be Placed

By L. A. BRADFORD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Mar. 12.—The chartering of the air is essential to the national defense of the United States. Brigadier General William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the Army Air Service, said today in an interview with the United Press.

Mitchell declared that the "laying of the cornerstone" here recently of America's first "Airway", from Washington to Dayton, Ohio, will prove to be a "vital milestone in the progress and development of both commercial and military aeronautics."

"The limitless and boundless ocean of the air", General Mitchell said, "must be explored and chartered just as unknown lands and oceans, so that navigators may with ease make their way without loss of time or danger across vast expanses of territory in peace or war."

"The establishment of well organized air routes throughout the country, especially in America is an essential to a well balanced system of national defense as is the development work on the aircraft itself."

"The installation of an airway entails the location of landing fields with all accessories, including radio direction finding, radio communication, aids to night navigation, housing and maintenance of equipment. It is undoubtedly true that with properly established airways of this kind, cross country flying, night or day, in good or bad weather, will be safer than auto touring by road, and that with the development and perfection of the machine itself, will in time surpass in speed, comfort, and safety, the modern comforts of transports.

"These air routes will provide a network whereon the units of the National Guard and the organized Reserve of the Army can be placed. However, these highways of the air will not be usurped by the Air Service, but they will be open, under legislative restrictions, to all commercial operators, who will receive all the benefits and conveniences of such an organization; therefore commercial aeronautic interests will be fostered."

"The Model Airway, between Washington and Dayton, will become then the first unit in a system of airways throughout the United States which will be started under a policy formulated by the Air Service and which will be guided in its organization by the experience gained from the establishment of and operation of the Model Airway."

"The Model Airway as chosen is extremely well suited to the purpose of serving as a basic guide in this expansion program. Almost all of the natural problems attendant to successful air navigation are met on this airway, which is one that will always be needed. Incidentally, it connects Washington with the Air Service Engineering Division Headquarters. In the course of this route appear mountains to be passed over, varying climatic conditions and terrain of almost every type and character."

Will Cement Be Hard To Get This Year?

It will probably be more abundant, but it is anticipated the demand will exceed the abundance.

WHY?

Last year the shortage of coal, switchmen's strike, shortage of cars and other causes brought about a great shortage of cement. Millions of dollars of work was held up. Miles of cement road work involving thousands of barrels of cement was stopped and postponed until this year. That work will go forward this year, and coupled with the usual demand for cement this year it will tax the cement mills to supply the demand.

If you bought cement last year you know how hard it was to get, and you probably did not get it when you wanted it. We are anticipating something of the same kind this year; but we are going to try to be better prepared and are now putting in all the cement our warehouse will hold and placing orders for future delivery.

It is our honest belief that you who anticipate your wants and buy your cement early will be doing well.
